HONGKONG AUGUST 16, 1865.

WE learn on good authority that a large quantity of powder is stored on board the Princess Charlotte and that a lesser, though still a considerable quantity is accommodated on board the hospital hulk Meleville. Should either of these vessels be struck by lightning, a probable contingency at this season of the year, the town of Victoria Hongkong would be instantly reduced to a heap of ruins.

As for the probability of the dreadful contingency we hint at is concerned—, we take leave to say that scarcely a summer passes without some ship in the harbor being struck with lightning—therefore it is simply tempting providence to rely upon the immunity from such a danger to the two hulks we have mentioned.

We by no means desire to exonerate the naval authorities from blame in this matter, although the responsibility may possibly not lie at their door. We cannot suppose that such an act of temerity would be even attempted in any other part of the civilized world It is well enough understood that the Hongkong community lack all public spirit are a divided lot and like a flock of sheep without a shepherd—that the home government hold them in contempt accordingly—that there is small chance of public remonstrance towards any grievance, and that even should the community become sufficiently excited to address the powers above them on any glaring abuse, they may sure to receive a rebuff as they did in the affair of the drain gang, although the Superintendent of Police in that case actually more than endorsed their complaint.

Naval Officers are fighting men and do not judge of affairs on the same train of ideas as civilians do. Thus it doubtless came to pass that a large quantity of powder was thrown upon the hands of the naval authorities in Hongkong. As for going to any expense in the matter that of course was quite out of the question. The Commanding Officer would argue thus. "The Princess Charlotte can "accommodate it—a little dangerous with so "many people on board—never mind, if I "can sleep over it they can and as for the "towns-people, why if my crew can sleep "over it, they can surely sleep alongside of it "at such a distance. Suppose I was to blow "up! By jingo the Admiral would have no "powder in case of a scrimmage! I'll put half "of it on board the Meleville—if my crew can "run the risk so can theirs." We understand perfectly well how these matters are managed, and we will be bound the above is a pretty fair diagnosis of the modus operandi.

Should any of our readers fancy that we are alarmists, let him just read the account of the late catastrophe at Mobile. The effects of the shock of the explosion seem almost incredible—men were found dead in the streets without a mark upon them—having been killed instantaneously by the concussion. The quantity of powder which caused this catastrophe was thirty tons—we suspect that far more than that is stored on board either of the two hulks we have alluded to.

There is a powder magazine on Kettett's Island, and another on the hill in the rear of the Ordinance stores. These may be full for all we know, and doubtless contain a considerable quantity. Those localities are equally exposed to the danger of lightning as the Princess Charlotte and Meleville and are equally contiguous to the town; so that there are actually four points of danger in our very midst, whereby we are liable to immediate destruction.

The Officer administering the government of Hongkong, holds authorities within the colony and its Dependencies, of Vice Admiral and Captain General, and we have all seen in the case of the poor Ninah being hustled to Kowloon, that this authority is anything, but nominal. Consequently the responsibility of the dangers we have indicated of the destruction of the town by the explosion of powder, lies at the door of Mr. Mercer—and for all there is tangible or satisfactory in the knowledge of where the responsibility rests, our readers will be as well pleased at the information as though it rested on the shoulders of the man at the Peak. In fact, after the rendition of Mo Wong, we doubt if Mr. Mercer knows what moral responsibility means.

The Colony is made to pay the Governor a very handsome salary, and has certainly a right to be protected from such contingencies as we have indicated, especially as the power to protect them is directly vested in the Governor. But here again, the vice of our wretched Colonial system becomes apparent. Mr. Mercer seeks Downing Street popularity—if he were to order the naval and military authorities to remove the powder which they have stored in our very midst, he would put those departments to inconveniences, and expense, and would probably cause the Admiral's powder to become damp and to deteriorate. That matters little to the people who pay the Governor's salary, but it would assuredly annoy those in whose hands "His Excellency's" promotion rested. We have a cheese-paring Chancellor of the Exchequer—finance is everything nowadays, and if the Governor did his duty as he should, instead of our being blown up with gunpowder, he would be blown up from Downing Street—a far more dreadful contingency.

But the reader may say—"the powder must "be stored somewhere—what do you purpose "to do with it"—? We submit that the elimination of this point makes the matter much worse. The South side of the Island abounds in safe anchorages, and is exposed to a beautiful sea breeze, which is shut out from the harbor by those hideous hills. Why cannot there be a hulk for convalescent naval and military stationed on the South side of the Island? Several times, our large men of war have had to proceed thither and anchor, because of the sickness caused on board by the heat of the harbor; and more than once, if we remember aright, have merchant transports been hired to proceed to the Southern anchorages, for the reception of military invalids.

It would be quite inimitical to the invalids in a hulk so stationed, whether there were ten tons of powder stored on board, or a hundred tons. Either quantity would be sufficient to send them to hades at one moment's notice, and a man may as well be hung for stealing a sheep, as for stealing a lamb.

It might be better to build a powder magazine at Stanley and to occupy the barracks there. But military men in these parts are very gregarious, and insist on condemning that locality as unhealthy. The fact is, that nothing is wanted to make Stanley barracks agreable and healthy, except good water and foliage. The water now procurable there is brackish, and hence the unhealthiness. The defect would have to be remedied by the construction of water works, which we believe would cost very little.

However—all this is foreign to our argument. In any case, a town containing one hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants, should not have four powder magazines in its immediate contiguity—that is pretty clear. We would advise our readers, if they should deem it worth while, to attack the grievance—they have a chance of success. H.M. Government fancy we are all very rich, and they take a delight in squeezing us—in fact, they make no secret of their intentions. They may think perhaps, if the town should be destroyed by an explosion that we should be all killed off and impoverished, and that consequently we should not be available for their cheese-paring embraces.

BEFORE THE HON. J. G WHITE, ESQ.

A well conditioned China woman entered the witness box and said that she was nurse to a gentleman, but that that gentleman was otherwise in the second time she bite my arm; I don take her along. The second girl very good girl, but Kvice drunk.

Inspector Dixon said the defendant with a number of other girls came out of a house of very questionable character in the neighbourhood of Dockyard about 10 last evening, and they made such a great noise in the street that he ordered them to be taken into custody. The house was altogether a very noisy place.

The Inspector on duty at the Central Police Station said that first defendant had made use of very obscene and violent language whilst in the station. Defendants were both in liquor. First defendant fined $10, second do. $1.

We understand that a gentleman of position we presume out of charitable motives bailed the above two young ladies out of custody very shortly after their being brought into the Station.

PROFESSOR WHEELER, would respectfully attract the attention of the Hongkong Public to the importance of having the Hair Cut, and Dressed in an Artistic manner and style. Appropriate to the Individual is the cut of the Hair; there can be no fixed or prevailing fashion without destroying almost universally the harmony of the tout ensemble. Indeed as diversen as is the contour of the human head and facial outline, just so peculiar should be the trim and arrangement of the Hair. This fact is noted upon by only those Hair-Cutters who possess an inherent judgment in matters of taste, cultivated and improved by incessant study and application. Of this rare class, Professor WHEELER, humbly claims to be one, and the Only One in this Colony, and he modestly but confidently invites all who may be distrustful of his ability to give him at least a trial before pronouncing an adverse opinion. He may be found at all hours of the day in his Apartments adjoining the Private Entrance of the Oriental Hotel.

WEST POINT RICE MILLS.

THIS Establishment is now ready to receive orders for Rice to be cleaned, and the undersigned are prepared to receive, land, store, clean and ship Rice in any quantities. A new large and very powerful boiler has been expressly imported for the Mills, and large costly additions have been made to the Machinery which is now in full and perfect working order, the improvements which have been effected enabling the undersigned to guarantee the cleaning of Rice in a manner not to be equalled either by any other Mills in the East, or by the tedious hand-labour of the Chinese. The Mills are clean and turn out six hundred piculs of Rice in the working day and if greater expedition is required it can be attained. The Godowns are made of granite and are large, airy, and insurable against fire at low rates. The pier has sufficient water at all states of the tide to allow the largest cargo boats to lie, alongside and load or discharge.

Terms can be ascertained on application to the undersigned at the Mills where orders will be received. Persons unable to attend at the Mills will be waited on at their offices and all orders carefully and promptly executed.

THE LATE MISS BAXTER.

WE the undersigned having been designated by the late Miss Baxter to take charge of her Estate and to make such arrangements as we might deem necessary in regard to the Orphans and their Children whom she had from time to time received under her protection, take the earliest opportunity of placing before the community the position in which we found the estate and the measures we have adopted.

It was evident to us on enquiry and examination that the number of Children congregated in Miss Baxter's two Houses, in Bonham Road, was too large and the room one at her disposal too limited to admit of the Children being properly accommodated, fed, clothed and educated.

It was accordingly decided to reduce the number of Girls and Boys to within such a reasonable limit as would, with the pecuniary assistance we might hope to receive, enable us to do justice to all retained.

In the selection of the Children to be so retained we were careful to show a preference to those who had been the greatest source of solicitude and anxiety to the late Miss Baxter.

As a temporary measure and pending communications from the Friends of Miss Baxter, in England, it has been arranged through the kindness of the Committee and Trustees of the Hoonsan Native Female Training School, that the Girls be received into the unoccupied portion of their Building under the care of Miss Cezad, we guaranteeing to hold the institution free from all expenses attendant upon the arrangement.

The Boys retained have in a similar manner upon the same conditions, been transferred to St. Paul's College under the care of Miss Ridge, recently arrived from England.

The School Master and his Wife, also lately arrived, were sent back to England by the mail Steamer of the 29th July.

These measures enable us to surrender the two School Houses this day and thus to effect a saving of about $213 per month in School Master's Salary, House Rents and Taxes, besides many other expenses incidental to a large Establishment.

In regard to the funds for carrying out these arrangements, we regret to say that although the utmost economy has been exercised, there is, after expending all the available monies, a deficiency of $1105.16.

We therefore appeal to the Community, and confidently hope that their liberality will not only reimburse us this Sum, but will enable us to continue in some measure the good work of a Lady so deservedly respected, so deeply lamented and so distinguished for her Christian benevolence and self-denial.

NOTICE OF REDUCTION OF PASSAGE MONEY.

IN the year 1857 the Directors made a considerable reduction in the Company's rates of Passage Money, which continued in force till 1861. In that year, owing to the extraordinary rise in the Cost and Freight of Coals, and the enhanced price of all descriptions of Naval Stores, the Directors were reluctantly compelled to return to the rates of Passage Money previously in force. They are now happy to state that a decrease in the price of Coal and other expenses of Steam Navigation enables them to reduce the Company's Passage rates to the undermoted scale, which will take effect from and after the 1st June next, viz:—

From Hongkong to—

Suez	$160
Malta	510
Marseilles	530
Gibraltar	530
Southampton	550

Reserved Rates for Single Persons.

Suez	$920
Malta	1,020
Marseilles	1,060
Gibraltar	1,060
Southampton	1,100

Reserved Rates for Married Couples.

Suez	$1,160
Malta	1,360
Gibraltar	1,360
Marseilles	1,448
Southampton	1,488

The charges for Children are in proportion to the above.

The above rates are exclusive of the amount payable to the Egyptian Transit Administration for conveyance of Passengers through Egypt, viz:—

For First-class Passengers, $32
Children under three and under ten years, half-rate.

The Accident to the Steamer "Bombay."

On her late trip from Australia to Galle.

The P. & O. Co's steamer Bombay, about whose safety fears were entertained until Mauritius papers informed us of her arrival at Port Louis, arrived in Bombay harbour at 1 o'clock P.M. of the 23rd ult. As is already known, the cause of her detention was the breaking of her screw shaft, which happened six days after leaving King George's Sound. She was then about 2500 miles from the Mauritius, and her commander, Captain G. C. Burne, determined to proceed there under canvas instead of attempting to put back to the port he had recently left; and after a good passage of about thirteen days, the Bombay arrived at Port Louis on 21st May. She left Sydney on the 22nd April, Melbourne on the 26th, and King George's Sound on the 2nd of May. On the following Sunday a sort of grating sound was heard in the engine-room, which seemed to come from the tube of the shaft, but the cause could not be discovered. At the worst, it was supposed that only some of the bearings had got loose, but about half-past 12 o'clock on the night of Sunday, the 7th May, the shaft suddenly snapped, the lower portion with the screw falling into the sea. The vessel was then in lat. 22-17 S., lon. 93-56 E., but fortunately the weather was very pleasant, and when the nature of the accident became known all sail was at once clapped on, and she bore away for Port Louis. The distance—about 2500 miles—was run in 13 days, and the Bombay arrived in that port on Sunday, the 21st May, about half-past 10 o'clock in the forenoon. The following morning she was put into dock; the spare shaft the steamer carried was fitted with as much expedition as possible, and on the morning of the 29th she was unloaded, and in the afternoon of the same day was on her voyage to Aden. The steamer Nemesis which had arrived at the Mauritius on the 17th, had in the meantime taken the passengers, mails, &c., of the Bombay to Suez.

The Bombay arrived at Aden on the 7th June, at 3-30 P.M., and remained there until the 17th, when she left for Bombay reaching the latter port in a trifle less than six days.

Not the least alarm prevailed among the passengers regarding the accident, and as an ample store of provisions was on board, the passengers, considering all things, seems to have had rather a pleasant time of it.

Amenities of the Bar.

A very animated discussion took place at the High Court, Bombay, between the Lord Chief Justice and Mr. Chisholm Anstey, in which His Lordship was obliged to hint at the adoption of coercive measures against the learned counsel.

Mr. Bayley applied for permission to put in a document on behalf of the plaintiff, to a suit then under trial before His Lordship.

Mr. Anstey, for the defendant, object to the document being admitted, on the ground that it had not been put into the settlement of issues.

The Chief Justice, after hearing the counsel's argument, decided in favor of the acceptance of the document. The Act gave him a discretionary power to that effect.

Mr. Anstey sat down, and after some time again objected to the acceptance of another document, on a similar ground—viz. that it had not been put in at the settlement of issues.

The Chief Justice said he had already disposed of the objection in reference to the first document.

Mr. Anstey then objected to the admissibility of the document upon another ground.

The Chief Justice again decided in favor of the acceptance of the document.

Mr. Anstey said the court could not admit it.

The Chief Justice said he had decided that it should be admitted, and asked Mr. Anstey to sit down and not to interrupt the court.

Mr. Anstey said he could not sit down until his objection had been heard.

The Chief Justice said he had heard the objection, and already decided against it; and he wished Mr. Anstey to sit down.

Mr. Anstey contended that his objection had not been heard, and he could not sit down.

The Chief Justice said he had already overruled it, and therefore desired Mr. Anstey to sit down.

Mr. Anstey maintained that his objection had not been fully heard.

The Chief Justice remarked he had already heard and decided against it, and asked if Mr. Anstey wished him to take stronger measures?

Mr. Anstey would say, with all deference to His Lordship, that he had not fully stated his objection.

The Chief Justice (with some impatience): Then what is your objection?

Mr. Anstey then stated what the objection was; whereupon His Lordship remarked that it was the same in effect with what he had previously stated, and against which the court had already decided. Mr. Anstey then sat down, and the trial proceeded.—Bombay Times.

Bills of Exchange.

Something startling. Low made a Nuisance.

We wish to draw the attention of our readers—those of the banking and mercantile community, especially—to a case in the High Court,—the Bombay City Bank vs. Manjee Hurry Doss, reported in our columns of Saturday last. The Bombay City Bank held two drafts drawn by Manjee Hurry Doss, in Calcutta, on Manjee Lachmee Doss, at Bombay. Both drafts were accepted, but, not being paid at due date, on presentation, were noted for non-payment by a Notary Public, at Bombay, and sent back to Calcutta for realisation from the drawer. They were not paid by the drawer, and this action was brought against him. The summons was duly served, but the defendant did not appear to the summons. The case was, therefore, heard ex parte—i. e., in the absence of the defendant, and of any one to represent him. In our Courts of England, and in the late Supreme Court here, a judgment, by default, would have gone against the defendants, as a matter of right to the plaintiff—that is the case, in the defendant's absence, would have been decreed against him, on the smallest testimony on the part of the plaintiff that the claim was unpaid. Such a course is, under the Code of Civil Procedure, open to, and constantly followed by the Judges of our High Court, who interpret the law, and, decide cases, by the light of their English education. But such a course, though it must approve itself to all men of common sense, is not, under the Code, obligatory on the Court; consequently, the sitting Judge may demand, in an undefended case, the strictest legal evidence of every fact connected with it, which would be required were the defendant to appear and contest the case at every point; and Mr. Justice Phear now carries this power of requiring proof to the extremest limits to which he can stretch it. According to his decision in this case, it will now be absolutely necessary for any bank or merchant, bringing a suit for the amount of a dishonored Bill of Exchange, accepted in Bombay, or any other distant part of India, or, indeed, of the world, before he can get a verdict against the drawer or endorser in Calcutta, to send a commission, at a costly expense, to the place where the Bill ought to have been paid, to prove, by the most indisputable evidence, that it was presented and dishonored at due date. In fact, to judge from the report of the conversation which took place between Mr. Justice Phear and Mr. Walker, the Accountant of the Bank, it will be necessary, in all similar cases before that learned Judge, that the gentleman who writes the letter of advice, forwarding a Bill for acceptance or collection at the place where it is payable, should himself get inside the envelope containing the Bill, and go with it by post to Bombay or elsewhere, and never part company with it until he has seen it presented and dishonored, and again jumped with it into another envelope, on its return to Calcutta, and finally flourished it in Court before that too-exacting Judge. This evidence was not forthcoming, and the Judge dismissed the case, and refused not only to allow a postponement for the purpose of sending a commission to Bombay for the evidence required, but also refused to allow the Bank to bring another action—thereby depriving the Bank of all remedy whatever on the Bill, unless they chose to proceed against their solicitors for negligence—a claim which, to say the least of it, we should consider very doubtful. It thus becomes necessary, in all undefended cases, (a necessity which does not exist in any other part of the world) to prove the claim as if it were contested and ably defended, point by point, and bankers and merchants will find, as we have already stated, how difficult—nay, how hopeless—it will be to attempt to recover, from the drawer the amount of a dishonoured bill. Moreover, the drawer or endorser of such a bill, who wishes to avoid or put time for payment of a just debt, has only to avoid appearing at apparance to a suit for its recovery; by doing so he will, by such a verdict as that reported on Saturday, obtain full immunity from a just debt. Surely, under these circumstances, our Code of Civil Procedure should be amended. We know it is in course of amendment, and we earnestly recommend this question, as to what evidence should be sufficient in ex parte cases, to the serious consideration of those with whom lies the amendment of the Code. One word more as to the mode in which business is conducted in the High Court. Of the legal abilities of Mr. Justice Phear, or any other Judge, we do not venture to express the slightest doubt, though we certainly think persons of ripe men will fail to appreciate the subtlety that can discover ambiguity in the most ordinary form of a Bill of Exchange; but we do take objection to the mode adopted by the Court, as a most undignified one, of wrangling with a witness, for the purpose of arriving at the construction of a document; and we object, also, to the practice now ruling in the Court, and which we hear of on all sides—viz., that of one Judge almost daily setting aside, or wasting the public time, in arguing about, the orders or decisions on points of practice passed by another Judge.—Bombay Times, June, 1865.
